Nearly $1,000,000 New Construction

Lac la Biche has witnessed nearly $1,000,000 of new construction in the past two years.

The York Hotel, recently taken over by new owners, was built in 1953 and 1954 by Ross Stefanik at a cost of nearly $250,000.

The hospital section cost almost $500,000.

The new provincial building is under $200,000 but a new federal building has been promised soon for Lac la Biche.

The Lac la Biche Lions Club held their regular meeting at the York Hotel on Oct. 11. It was decided to hold charter night on Nov. 1. Further plans regarding staging of amateur night were made. Rev. R. Greene, Floyd McMillan and Jake Klein were chosen on committee for the amateur night.

Air Stowaway
Shipped Home

A planned trip to Hawaii came to an end in Edmonton last week for a young air-minded hitch hiker from Fort Garry, Man., a Winnipeg suburb.

Police said 12-year old Danny Kennie was taken off a trans-Canada Air Lines plane at the Edmonton airport when a stewardess discovered him aboard without a ticket minutes before the craft was due to leave for Vancouver.

Police said the lad had used a ruse to fly via TCA from Winnipeg to Edmonton, telling a stewardess his mother had his ticket and would follow him aboard, and was about to take off on the second leg of his trip when found.

They said the airliner had pulled out on the runway and was ready for take-off when the pilot radioed the control tower that he was returning to the station with a stowaway.

The boy told police he was going to Hawaii for the winter. When a police officer offered to buy him a meal, the boy turned it down saying he had been well fed while aboard the plane from Winnipeg to Edmonton.

Police said he was carrying two bars of soap and a candy bar.

Plans were being made to return him to his home.

District Agricultural Notes

By J. S. LORE

With the harvest winding up in many districts, much of our attention will be turning to livestock. Livestock is a commodity on which there is no quota at the present time, and if the quality and finish is there, the price is fairly good.

This is the time of year to do something about the quality of your stock. If you are a beginner or have somehow just never gotten around to doing anything about improving your stock, it would be a good idea to make arrangements to get the service of a good purebred bull for next year.

If you do not have enough cattle of your own to buy a bull, try to arrange with a neighbor either to use his or maybe buy one in partnership with one of your close neighbors. The purchase of a good herd sire now will repay itself many times in the future, not only in the price you receive but in the pride you have in your stock.

The month of November is a month that has a lot of sale of livestock, and if you wish to purchase a bull this fall and winter it yourself, it may be wise to attend one of these sales. If you cannot get away from your work, you can place an order with me in Lac la Biche and you can get a ten per cent reduction in the price of a purebred bull.

If you are an established rancher or have cattle herd up to the size you wish to maintain, now is the time to start culling out those cows that give poor calves, and also any old cows that may not live another year. Cut them out of the regular herd and wean their calves so that the cows can be fed a bit before they are shipped.

It does not pay to ship anything that is not in good condition, so you should probably fatten anything that you are planning on selling before you ship it.

Remember when you are purchasing a herd sire that he is going to be responsible for half the quality of the calves. Do not try to economize when buying a bull, as it will prove costly in the long run. There is a saying that I think is worth repeating here: "A good bull is half your herd. A poor bull is all of it."

Edmonton May Drop 250 From School-Rolls

There may be 250 under-six-year-old grade-one pupils dropped from elementary schools in Edmonton this term, says W. P. Wagner, superintendent of schools.

However the figure is a guess and final tabulation won't be completed until the end of October, Mr. Wagner said.

Grade 1 pupils number about 4,000 in the Edmonton Public school system. Another 1,155 are enrolled in separate schools, but no estimate was given by A. A. O'Brien, superintendent for the number dropped there.

Admission policy is similar in both systems. Pupils who are not six years old until Feb. 28 of the following year are admitted in Sept. After 10 days to allow them to become accustomed to school routine, they are tested. If they do not display the required maturity, another test is given three or four days later.

The difficult part of the curriculum for the under-six child, Mr. Wagner said, is the reading, and it is only the child of above-average intelligence who can manage. Parents generally are encouraged to keep the child at home if he has any difficulty, he said.

Pupils of six years at Sept. 1 are admitted unconditionally, Mr. Wagner said.

He said the number of grade one pupils who have not reached their sixth birthday Sept. 1 may reach as high as 2,000.

Mystery Solved Stolen Roads

The case of the vanishing highways has ended in fines for ten Edmonton persons in RCMP court.

Investigation began after the council in Stony Plain reported that someone was stealing their roads. District roads south of Winterburn had been stripped of sand and soil for a depth of one to three feet.

RCMP investigated and ten persons were fined $2 to $15 for sneaking sand and other soil from roadways.

Yukon Prospector Gets 15 Years

EDMONTON — The finding of a body in the suburban Calder district July 26 was described in supreme court at the jury trial of La Plante, 51, of Watson Lake, Y.T., accused of the murder of William G. Finch, 75.

La Plante was convicted on the lesser charge of manslaughter and given 15 years in penitentiary.

Evidence said the body was found in a clump of bushes. Thomas Lavery, a hospital orderly, said that he was walking in the area when he noticed a man pointing towards some bushes. When he looked into the bushes he noticed the body of a man.

"I felt the pulse and immediately knew he was dead," the witness said, explaining that he had about 20 years' experience in hospitals.

Const. Stanley Stevens, city police identification section, submitted six photographs showing the location of the body. He said the body appeared to have been deposited in the bushes from the sidewalk.

Threatens With Gun Gets Jail Term

EDMONTON (BUP). — An Edmonton man was sentenced to three months in jail in Edmonton police court after he was found guilty of resisting a sheriff's bailiff.

Joseph L. Check was also fined $100 for assaulting a police officer and pointing a fire-arm.

According to witnesses, Check threatened to throw out two Bailiffs who had gone to the Dominion Hardware Store earlier this month to make four seizures amounting to almost $1300.

The two Bailiffs returned with two police officers. Constable John Fitzpatrick said that after a scuffle with Check, the man grabbed a rifle and pointed it at the group. The other constable, Thomas Whelan, drew his revolver. Constable Fitzpatrick said, and then Fitzpatrick took the rifle from the accused.

WHY NOT MAKE NORDEGG A HOME FOR PENSIONERS?

By L. W. NEWCOMBE

West of Rocky Mountain House, Alta., in a rather mild winter belt is the forsaken coal mining town of Nordegg. It was once a modern thriving settlement of around 2000 people who had all the conveniences of water and sewer, hotels, two churches, theatre, up-to-date stores, lots of two, three and four-room houses, fire hall, curling rink and hospital; wonderful scenery, good fishing and hunting; good climate; indeed an ideal set-up.

The provincial government in an attempt to build up the coal industry loaned the coal company $5,000,000 about four years ago to build a briquetting coal plant, and the mortgage still stands leaving the government pretty well holding the property.

All these fine buildings are now closed and boarded up, with only a few pensioners living in the ghost town today. The houses have been fenced in, but it is reported some looting has been going on of household furnishings, etc. Recently a highway to Calgary has been completed and so fair access to the cities is available. Mr. Kerry Wood recently visited the silent town, and makes a suggestion which seems to have merit. He says, "We urgently need a Twilight Town in Alberta. A place where elderly people could rent a comfortable home for a reasonable price, and where all services are available to make their lives happy and healthy." He expresses the view that Nordegg could be made into such a Twilight Town, at very little expense, that many Alberta pensioners need a place which they can rent that is within their means and be together with those of like memories and experiences.

Much could be said on this proposition which there is not space here to express, but it appears to be self-evident without much discussion, since all of us know of many elderly people who are compelled to live with their children and grandchildren with little individual freedom or life of their own, and church homes usually are too costly to fill the need.

It would be, it seems, an act of real value if clubs like the Friendship or Old Age Pensioners take this matter up with the provincial government or other agencies, and consider the possibilities in this idea of Mr. Wood's. Not many provinces have such an opportunity right at their front doors as is offered in this Nordegg ghost town for our old-timers.

Anti-Semitism is feared to be still alive in Germany.

ATA Holds 18th Convention

The Two Hills local association of the A.T.A. has successfully completed its 18th annual convention in Two Hills under the guidance of superintendent, F. Hannochko, with 100 per cent attendance.

Vice-president, N. W. Svelka called the convention to order. Rev. D. Luchak delivered the invocation.

The keys of the town and best wishes for a successful convention were given by Mayor D. Geleta.

Vice-president, Mr. Svelka greeted the new teachers. "Teaching is a noble profession and must be nobly done," said Mr. Svelka. Mr. Huculak, divisional board member, reported that centralization was totally completed with the exception of two schools in hamlets.

Mr. Mulka brought greetings from the Eagle Municipality. The F.U. A. was represented by Mr. Sanford from Vegreville. Mrs. Hunter of Edmonton represented the Home and School Association.

Superintendent Hannochko stated that "the goal of the divisional board is to continue improving the facilities in the division."

A. A. Aldridge brought greetings from the department of Education. Mr. Aldridge stated that individual differences are of vital importance among the students.

An excellent review of the teaching of reading was made by Miss M. Coldwell, from the Faculty of Education.

On the lighter part of the convention was the delicious banquet served by the Ukrainian Orthodox Ladies Club. Mrs. R. Mrstik of Hairy Hill rendered two beautiful vocal solos. Toscelli's "Serenade" and "There was a Lad".

This was followed by a very interesting talk by Dr. M. E. LaZerte in which he stated that across Canada thousands of students are dropping out of schools from Grades 7 to 11. For Canada to keep her position in world affairs, something must be done about this situation.

The next day's session started with a report from P. M. Shavchook, the divisional secretary.

Dr. A. P. Coladarsi, professor of Education, from Stanford University, California, spoke on "Functions of Theory in Educational Practice". "Every teacher should be an educational researcher; they should question theories rather than accept them as being the truth".

Louise Eriksson Teaches School In American Colony

CZAR — Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Eriksson of the Czar district have received letters from their daughter, Miss Louise Eriksson, telling of her arrival by plane in Valencia, Venezuela. She has been hired by the Firestone Rubber Company to teach school in an American colony.

She writes that the country is beautiful with a luxurious plant growth, and she is seeing many new and interesting things. Factories for several rubber companies are situated there.

Miss Eriksson taught at Central High School in Hughenden last term, and at the Camrose Lutheran College and at Provost previous to that.

She was born and grew up on her parents' farm near Czar. She received her early education at Custer School and attended high school in Czar. She received her teacher's training at the University of Alberta in Edmonton, and her missionary training at the Lutheran Bible Institute in Minneapolis. She was a member of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church at Czar.

She has been interested in becoming a missionary for a long time and we are sure that she is pleased to serve thus in Venezuela.

Impressed By North Stays In McLennan

The town of McLennan is very fortunate in having such an able person as Miss June Stoner as their secretary-treasurer. She is packed with information about her town, and from all accounts enjoys her work very much. It appears that Miss Stoner was visiting McLennan some time ago on business, and she was so impressed with the north country, and having been offered this position, she just stayed, and so McLennan has a new citizen, and Hardisty, where her home is, is on the losing side.

Miss Stone states that quite a lot of improvements are taking place in the town. Right now the water and sewerage work is in progress, and next year pavements are to be laid.

The present mayor is W. C. Kirkland and councillors are O. T. Willis, C. R. Clark, A. R. Gibbons, Dr. H. W. Fish, M.D., and Dr. A. J. Hertz, dentist.

Three Killed In Collision With Tractor

FAIRVIEW — Three Fairview district young people were killed instantly Friday night when their late model car crashed into a caterpillar tractor on Highway 2, about 10 miles east of Fairview.

Dead are: Leroy Hatfield, Fairview, employee of Mike's Iron Works, owner and driver of the car; Alma Sheihan, Whitelaw district school teacher, and Douglas Olstad, of Hines Creek, employed by the NAR in Fairview.

The victims were believed to be en route to a dance in the district when the car crashed into the caterpillar owned by Alec McClure and operated by Mr. Lemke, also of the Fairview district. Mr. Lemke was not injured.

The caterpillar was being taken across a bridge and a flare had been set out to warn oncoming motorists. Mr. McClure was down the highway about 300 feet flagging down motorists, but the Hatfield car sped past him without reducing speed.

The blade of the "cat" was lifted off the ground and the impact of the crash drove the car under the caterpillar blade, shearing the car practically in two. There were no skid marks.

A Canadian Coachways bus arrived on the scene moments later and was hooked onto the car while the "cat" backed off the wreckage. RCMP and a Fairview doctor were summoned, but the occupants of the car, all seated in the front of the sedan, were dead. Police from the Fairview detachment of the RCMP are investigating.

Snow, Rain Help Beat Forest Fires

EDMONTON (BUP) — Snow and rain have brought relief to fire-fighters battling nine fires in the Peace River area.

Sam Fomuk, tower man on Nose Mountain, 90 miles southwest of Grande Prairie, reported 12 inches of snow, and at Bald Mountain, 30 miles south of Edmonton, Adrian Hawthorne said two inches whitened the ground.

Five thousand acres of second growth poplar, spruce and pine in the tangent area gave fire-fighters their worst battle against the blazing inferno. Most farmers were fire-guarding crops before the rains put out above-ground fires.

In the Saddle hills, 125 miles west of Woking, as well as in sparsely settled districts east of New Fish Creek, north of Valleyview and some 15 miles north of Demmitt, forest fires were sweeping through second growth areas, driving all wild life before it.

Five forestry service patrols are being maintained in the burned-over sections. Where fires still smolder in roots and sheltered places, fresh outbreaks are still possible.

Sisters of Jesus Are Alberta Pioneers In Ministrations Of Hope And Mercy

By T. W. PUE

LAC LA BICHE — Last week the Herald carried a number of pictures and write-ups in connection with the recent opening of the new St. Catharine's hospital. Time and space limitations didn't permit all the copy we wanted to write for last week's paper and so this week I am going to tell readers something of the work of the "Sisters of Jesus" in this community.

First, let me say that in no way is St. Catharine's hospital an ordinary hospital — if there is such. Here, on the fringe where modern civilization and age-old Indian customs meet, the Reverend Sisters have brought their dual ministrations for physical and spiritual welfare of all races and creeds.

There are five registered nurses among the Sisters. These are Mother Superior Sister Marie of Providence, Sister Marie Richard, Sister Marie Zenide, Sister Marie Frances and Sister Marie Columba.

Three other sisters assist in the personal care of the patients. These are Sister Marie Regina, Sister Marie Jules and Sister Marie Antoinette.

There are four more Sisters at the hospital who each have specialized work to do. In the kitchen Sister Marie Rudolphe and Sister Marie Germain prepare the tasty meals and lunches for patients, and Sister Marie Claudia serves them. In the laundry Sister Marie Sylvain keeps up with the important work of keeping things clean.

Four lay-women help the Sisters in their work. They are Susan Bourassa, Alvine Schaub, Lucille Gauthier and Cecile Menard.

"Mike" Peron is janitor and Edmond Huppé maintenance engineer.

Of course, I could not give an adequate account of the staff of St. Catharine's hospital without mention of Rev. Fr. McGrane, chaplain.

The Sisters took over the old NAR luxury hotel in 1937 and four years later Father McGrane came to Lac la Biche. There is hardly a worth-while organization or project in the community to which Father McGrane has not given his energetic support in the past 15 years.

He has made the name of Lac La Biche known throughout Canada, in England and in France, and to many, the name of the town and name of the hospital chaplain are almost synonymous terms.

Both Drivers Charged

EDMONTON (BU.) — Adelard Fillion, 34, of 10140-108 Street was treated in an Edmonton hospital for a cut chin and scalp wound following a two-truck collision last week at the intersection of 104 Ave. and 109 St.

It was reported to Edmonton police that a truck driven by Alex Huculak, 25, of 8915-95 Street was travelling north on 109 Street. After stopping for a red light at 104 Avenue, Huculak pulled into the intersection. Fillion, unable to stop his truck, collided with the Huculak vehicle.

Fillion was summoned to Edmonton police court on a charge of operating a vehicle without a current driver's license, while Huculak was summoned on a careless driving charge.

Modern Methods Reduce Forest Fire Damage

EDMONTON, (BU.) — Regional Forester of Montana, R. D. Hanson, told delegates to a forestry-convention the use of planes and smoke have cut fire damage to a fraction of what it was in former days.

Speaking at Waterton Lakes, Alberta, recently, Hanson quoted figures to show the decrease in forest fire damage since areas in the United States began using airborne firefighters for quick dispatch to the scenes of blazes.

He added that forest conservation was useless unless there is a strong program of fire suppression to go with them.
